Climate

Day	Time	Session	Description
Monday 3 May	17.00 - 18.30	The Global Solution	This session will discuss how we can solve the climate crisis with already gathered knowledge. We will highlight future mistakes to avoid and new ways of communicating a multidisciplinary approach.
Wednesday 5 May	15.00 - 16.00	#LearningPlanet - Launch of Learning for Sustainability Circle in collaboration with Club of Rome	Surpassing disciplines, the #LP Education for Sustainability Circle will explore how learners of all ages can develop the necessary knowledge and skills for collaborative problem solving and addressing SDGs.
Friday 7 May	16.00 - 17.00	Divesting from Fossil Fuels: the role of social movements in mobilising the finance sector	This session will explore how private, not-for-profit and public organisations are putting their money where their consciences are by making the crucial choice to divest from environmentally harmful sectors.

Collaboration

Day	Time	Session	Description
Monday 3 May	18.00 - 19.30	How can we weave ourselves together for greater impact?	This will be a highly interactive session in which we will co-create ideas for spreading weaving throughout the Catalyst 2030 network in order to maximise our collective impact.
Monday 3 May	19.30 - 20.30	Tactics, Tips and Pitfalls: Leveraging Government Partnerships to Scale	Join this lively discussion featuring leading social entrepreneurs sharing candid and tactical lessons about what works and what doesn't with government partnership with SE's. We'll build on interviews and research conducted as part of Scaling Pathways and dive in deeper together.
Monday 3 May	19.30 - 21.00	Transformational Systems Change through Collaborative Networks	This is a conversation that will provide a broad landscape of approaches used to design and facilitate systems change. We'll talk about the trends in the field - centering justice and equity, decolonising and bridging practice, connecting western science traditions with indigenous wisdom, healing, and wholeness practices. The concepts are applicable, and required at all scales, and adaptive to place and context.
Tuesday 4 May	17.00 - 18.30	Catalyst market: Social enterprise collaboration for a regenerative and inclusive economy	This session will mobilise support for a collaboration between multiple Catalyst 2030 members that could potentially serve the broader membership and support systemic change.
Tuesday 4 May	18.00 - 19.00	Hallmarks of Successful Networks	In a COVID-19 world there is a need to work together in teams across the globe. Many networks start but are not successful. In this session we will share examples of successful networks and explore what contributes to them, and what challenges they face.
Tuesday 4 May	19.30 - 20.30	Activate your facilitation superpowers to catalyse collaborative change	How can we facilitate workshops with active and engaged participants? This session will cover how to share best practices and demonstrate a few examples from Brendon's database of systemic tools. It marks the creation of a facilitation Community Practice.
Tuesday 4 May	19.30 - 20.30	Social Enterprises are Changing the Economy: Here's Why Corporations Should Embrace Them in 2021	In 2021 we ask 75+ leaders across corporate social responsibility, corporate boards, impact investors, and social enterprises to answer the question: Can Capitalism Lead a More Sustainable and Equitable Recovery? In this talk, we'll share how companies can do more to partner with social enterprises, and the benefits of doing so.

Wednesday 5 May	17.00 - 18.00	Role of Bridging for Systems Change	Systems change has roots in many lineages and practices. The world is full of people who have been leading systems change work for decades, but just haven't called it that. This will be an interactive session sharing our key learning and insights about bridging practice, strategy and showcasing the work of the other bridger members who are leading inquiries into topics like rematriation and systems change from an Indigenous perspective and South African perspective.
Wednesday 5 May	19.30 - 20.30	What will it take for social enterprises to create and sustain business partnerships with corporations?	This workshop at Catalysing Change Week 2021 will present an ongoing research project to answer the question posed in the title, and invite social entrepreneurs to provide input. The project will create both a framework to determine when a social enterprise is 'corporate-partner-ready', as well as a diagnostic tool to apply the framework.
Wednesday 5 May	19.30 - 21.00	How Companies Can Partner with Social Enterprises to Achieve the SDGs	This session will provide an overview of ongoing research from the Catalyst 2030 Private Sector Working Group on how companies benefit by collaborating with social enterprises and the best practices and recommendations to do so. For this session, we propose to share key findings from our research thus far and allow the audience to validate and amend those findings.
Thursday 6 May	10.30 - 11.30	Partnering with National NGOs to achieve Systems Change	In this session we will share Aflatoun's experience in achieving system change by the integration of Social and Financial Education into the national curricula. It will highlight how Aflatoun partnered with relevant local NGOs and stakeholders, and how together they advocated with the national authorities and worked towards policy and system change.
Thursday 6 May	10.30 - 12.30	Catalyst 2030 Offers &amp; Needs Market	The Offers & Needs Market builds human connections as the foundation for co-creation and collaboration. This entirely interactive workshop is meticulously designed to connect you to people from the community and those interested in its work, get support for projects and daily life challenges, while discovering what gifts you have to offer.  IMPORTANT: The entire experience lasts 2 hours and it's important that you can join for the full experience. Please come on time or 5 min early (limited to 40 ppl), and bring two pieces of paper and a pen.
Thursday 6 May	15.00 - 16.00	Innovation and Partnership: Norad redefining what it means to be a bilateral agency	In this moderated session the Director of Norad, Bård Vegar Solhjell, will discuss the 5 strategic priorities of Norad and how through investment, innovation and partnerships Norad is forging a new path for bilateral agencies based on the urgency of the SDGs. Elena Bonometti will further share her experiences as a social entrepreneur partnering with Norad. Participants to the session will have the chance to ask questions and feedback during the question and answer time.
Thursday 6 May	17.00 - 18.00	How can social entrepreneurs help the UN to achieve the SDGs?	Senior leaders in UN agencies and social entrepreneurs will share their experiences of successful joint working and also where challenges have been faced. The governance issues that stand in the way will be explored, and the potential through the increasing recognition of the social and solidarity economy. The panel will explore and develop some simple recommendations on how we can work together more effectively to meet the challenge of achieving the SDGs by 2030.
Thursday 6 May	19.30 - 20.30	Purpose-Driven Partnership: Lifting Entrepreneurs to Change the World	Join this highly interactive session to explore how partnership, when pursued with intention, can accelerate each organization's impact and support the SDGs. We will collectively discuss the principals of Belief, Partnership, and Inspiration, and walk away with concrete tools to amplify our work and change the world.
Thursday 6 May	19.30 - 20.30	Shaping the Future Together: Radical Policy Action for Accelerated SDG Progress	In 2020, Future Law Institute began building a network to investigate how it might develop new pathways and infrastructure for radical policy action. In this session we will share what we have learned so far, and invite you to collaborate with us in re-engineering our laws and legal systems for SDG progress.

Country/Regional Chapters

Day	Time	Session	Description
Monday 3 May	18.00 - 19.00	Retos post-pandemia en Latinoamérica	Durante esta sesión se discutirá la situación de Latinoamérica actualmente, los grandes desafíos a los que se ha enfrentado durante la pandemia del covid-19, y los retos que tendrá que enfrentar como región aún cuando esta situación mundial se normalice.

Funding

Day	Time	Session	Description
Monday 3 May	19.30 - 21.00	Transformational Systems Change through Collaborative Networks	This is a conversation that will provide a broad landscape of approaches used to design and facilitate systems change. We'll talk about the trends in the field - centering justice and equity, decolonising and bridging practice, connecting western science traditions with indigenous wisdom, healing, and wholeness practices. The concepts are applicable, and required at all scales, and adaptive to place and context.
Tuesday 4 May	14.00 - 15.00	Designing for Scale: Exploring the journey to outsized social impact	This session will explore options to design for scale, and the journey to outsized social impact. It will include stories from the work of the panelists, as well as rich insight from Greenwood Place's role as an enabler of that journey.
Tuesday 4 May	15.00 - 16.30	Investors in Change - collaborative design for Module 3 on learning and evaluation	The School of System Change is collaborating with Catalyst 2030 to pilot a learning journey for Investors in Change. This is an interactive session to co-design the curriculum of the final module. We will focus on discussing with other practitioners what is most needed to align funders and people receiving funds around questions of impact, evaluation and learning about systems change.
Tuesday 4 May	16.00 - 17.00	Fireside chat with Reeta Roy President and CEO of Mastercard Foundation	A fireside chat with Reeta Roy, President and CEO of Mastercard Foundation, moderated by the renowned journalist and author Matthew Bishop.
Tuesday 4 May	16.00 - 17.00	A finance revolution for social enterprises	Social enterprises are essential if we want to reach the SDGs. They bring innovation, cost-effective solutions, critical capacity, and can serve both the public and private sector. However, accessing capital is one of the absolute largest roadblocks they face to operate and grow. How can we learn from microfinance, online remittances systems, venture capital, co-operatives, etc. to build an infrastructure that can underpin hundreds of thousands social enterprises in the years to come?
Tuesday 4 May	17.00 - 18.00	Different Types of Capital to Solve Different Problems	Navigating the tricky investment and funding landscape means understanding what types of capital are available and what purpose they best serve. This session will shine a much-needed light on the different types of investment, and how they can enable value creation for both the investor/funder and the social enterprise and its mission.
Tuesday 4 May	19.30 - 21.00	Ecosystems for Financing Transformation by 2030 Spotlight on Blue Equity	This session will discuss how systemic change is needed in areas of finance, metrics and legal systems if social entrepreneurs are to have access to the minimum 10% of global capital needed to achieve the SDGs. Blue Equity is one Ecosystem for Financing Transformation (EFT) that can help make that systemic and social shift.
Wednesday 5 May	14.00 - 15.00	Mobilising Philanthropy for Africa's Development	Three takeaways for this session are - focusing on the importance of community, collaboration & capacity-building in Africa's development, reimagining resource mobilisation for Africa's development, and questioning why we must build philanthropic research & data for Africa's development.
Wednesday 5 May	15.00 - 16.00	Financiadores colaborando de forma eficaz	In this session, two major Brazilian donors will share their experiences working in collaboration to achieve positive societal change. They will present and celebrate collaborative projects that promote the achievement of the SDGs. The barriers and concerns for collaborating effectively will also be debated in a conversational format, identifying possibilities to overcome them.
Wednesday 5 May	17.00 - 18.00	Role of Bridging for Systems Change	Systems change has roots in many lineages and practices. The world is full of people who have been leading systems change work for decades, but just haven't called it that. This will be an interactive session sharing our key learning and insights about bridging practice, strategy and showcasing the work of the other bridger members who are leading inquiries into topics like rematriation and systems change from an Indigenous perspective and South African perspective.
Wednesday 5 May	17.00 - 18.30	Funding Systems Change: Perspectives from Funders	An 'under the hood' session to discuss the challenges and opportunities for funders in supporting system change efforts. What are the obstacles? What has worked? What is needed in terms of shifting the donor/daoer power dynamic?

Don't miss the opportunity to hear from this panel of funders who will share their unique experiences.

Wednesday 5 May	18.00 - 19.00	The Catalyst Fund	A closed door session to co-shape a new, innovative fund to connect donors with social entrepreneurs to stimulate achieving the SDGs with a focus on Systems Change. After the Embracing Complexity report which describes the challenges and proposed changes in funding, this is your chance to put the theory in practice and co-shape the outline of a new fund.
Wednesday 5 May	19.30 - 20.30	Experiment in Radical Trust - Funding Safety, Security and Duty of Care	The importance of including funding so staff doing the work is supported
Thursday 6 May	9.00 - 10.00	The Not-So-Secret Secret to Accelerating the SDGs: Better Politicians — who they are how to support them and maybe even become one	Governments control around 35% of global GDP with the power to regulate the rest. In this session we'll explore: The role political leaders play in systems change, how to build and support transformative political leaders at scale and faster and how Catalyst 2030 members can help build better politics to advance their missions
Thursday 6 May	14.00 - 15.00	Leveraging social procurement to create change	Money back guarantee if you don't have fun, leave more cynical, aren't more optimistic and don't have a practical thing to do. The buying power of global organisations, multinational corporations, governments and public sector agencies cannot be underestimated. If procurement choices were based on socio-economic and environmental factors, targeting local partners and social entrepreneurs, we would be able to accelerate the achievement of the SDGs. SAP has been working with its clients to support the diversification of procurement practices. Hear from SAP and partners Unilever and the Social Enterprise World Forum to learn about why organisations are making this move and what social enterprises and diverse-led SMEs need to do to be successful in tender processes.
Thursday 6 May	15.00 - 16.00	De-risking and redefining the funding paradigm	The transference of money toward pandemic efforts has highlighted the fragility and vulnerability of SE's who have created dependant financial models. This begs the question, what are the learnings of social entrepreneurs who lost funding during covid and responses from experts who lay out the options?
Thursday 6 May	18.00 - 19.30	From Principle to Practice: Bringing to life a paradigm shift in nonprofit funding model	Mona Foundation believes that positive change is sustainable only when grassroots organisations lead their own development and continually build local capacities to diagnose, analyse, and address the social and economic challenges facing them. This session will bring to life, through specific instances of funding proposals and grants provided, how integrated principles are put to practice at the field level, and the impact they are making in terms of lives changed and communities transformed.
Friday 7 May	14.00 - 15.00	Funding Social Change in Africa: New Who's and New How's	The Catalyst 2030 African Chapter will host a conversation to explore two important trends that are shifting finance systems for social change in Africa. During the Q&A, the Catalyst2030 community will together consider the ways in which these trends create broader opportunities and challenges for our community as a whole.
Friday 7 May	17.00 - 18.00	Business, investment and public policies – accelerating systems change for the greater good	How can business, investment and public policies drive systems change? This panel will celebrate progress in the business-for-good movement and discuss strategies and lessons to scale up positive change for the good of people and planet. The discussion will cover purpose-driven businesses, such as B Corps, and impact investment that are driving business action towards the SDGs. Panelists will also highlight the role of public policies, such as taxation, public procurement, regulations and new legal forms of business incorporation that can accelerate a much needed transition to a new, more sustainable and equitable economy.

Gender

Day	Time	Session	Description
Wednesday 5 May	10.30 - 12.00	How Ending Violence Against Women and Girls Actually Helps You Achieve the SDGs	The session will demonstrate how multiple sectors can advance their goals and SDGs by collaborating to end violence against women and girls weaving in a feminist systems change approach
Wednesday 5 May	10.30 - 11.30	Where are the women in social innovation?	The social entrepreneurship sector has shown itself uniquely capable of empowering women leaders in its field, yet challenges remain. What do we need to do to ensure that women have an equal footing in this space?
Wednesday 5 May	17.00 - 18.00	Inspiring Global Womxn: a call to action	A session with Rana Djani (We Love Reading), 2. Ndidi Nwuneli (Nourishing Africa), 3. Shivani Garg Patel (Skoll World Forum), 4. Kyle Zimmer (First Book)
Friday 7 May	9.00 - 10.30	Durga Listens	Durga Listens has been crafted to be a safe, non-judgmental space to hear voices from the ground on issues of gender injustice. The focus of the session is to bring gender justice to the fore and encourage the use of grassroots voices to inform programming and intervention designing.
Friday 7 May	15.00 - 16.00	Inclusive Systemic Thinking - Beyond Essentialism	There is a recognised need for effective inclusion of all, human and non-human, to design, implement, and evaluate intersections for multiple objectives. In this panel session, we will discuss ways and means to give a more holistic voice to people, nature and sentient beings in such a way that stereotypes are not reinforced and new ways of facilitating change can emerge.

Government

Day	Time	Session	Description
Monday 3 May	19.30 - 20.30	Tactics, Tips and Pitfalls: Leveraging Government Partnerships to Scale	Join this lively discussion featuring leading social entrepreneurs sharing candid and tactical lessons about what works and what doesn't with government partnership with SE's. We'll build on interviews and research conducted as part of Scaling Pathways and dive in deeper together.
Tuesday 4 May	9.00 - 10.00	Civic innovations: what the world can learn from Taiwan	As societies, we need better ways to solve complex problems. Taiwan has developed new tools that could help: they facilitate debates among thousands of citizens to come up with policies for contentious issues; they adopt proven social innovations in government programs; and they encourage the administration to experiment and be entrepreneurial for the good of all. In this fireside chat, we learn more about these civic innovations, and what governments can do to adopt them.
Wednesday 5 May	16.00 - 17.00	An arrow in the development quiver: Impact Linked Finance	The session will explore Impact Linked Finance is, how it works and why the SDC is putting this in its arsenal. The session will end with a call to social entrepreneurs to collaborate and potentially become part of the programme.
Thursday 6 May	9.00 - 10.00	Collaborating with Government, Nature-based Solutions &amp; Nature-based Social Enterprises	In this session, we will share the learnings and recommendations from the Greening Marion Project. The project took a systemic approach informed by complexity science and focused on building the capacity of the local greening system. The recommendations from the project included the need to support initiatives that deliver urban greening outcomes and increase systems functioning.

Thursday 6 May	18.00 - 19.30	Looking at the SDGs From a Race Equity Lens	We know that conversations within the sector on race are riddled with legacies of colonial pasts, guilt, shame and vulnerabilities. They are needed, yet very seldom happen in a way that really explores the challenges of equity, equality and what these really mean when we talk about any one of the SDGs. The dynamics of power have been dominant within our funding strategies, our networks and relationships and in the narratives that have prevailed and it hinders our ability to create the deep change that is required. This session is both a safe space to have this conversation and also a call to action for collaboration to accelerate the work that is needed.

Friday 7 May	17.00 - 18.00	Innovating to Accelerate Inclusion in a Post-COVID World	The global coronavirus pandemic has exacerbated preexisting inequalities in society, and has had devastating health, economic and social consequences. Nevertheless, a more inclusive, sustainable world, where the digital economy works for everyone, everywhere is within our reach if we work together to achieve inclusion through action. In this session we will explore how innovative partnerships can accelerate and expand digital and financial inclusion, and help individuals connect with the social, economic and financial systems that can make them more productive by giving them access to services that many take for granted – such as, electricity, healthcare, information, education or finance.

Sustainability

Day	Time	Session	Description
Tuesday 4 May	15.00 - 16.00	Sustainable Fashion: Charting a roadmap for 2030	As one of the most environmentally damaging and socially unjust industries globally, the fashion industry often goes unchecked. In this session, we will discuss the role the fashion industry plays in impacting the UN SDGs. With technological advancements and the transition to more sustainable, circular business models, will this be enough to address socio-economic issues? Using a Systems Change approach, we will examine root causes and find solutions that help the fashion industry address the SDGs by the 2030 deadline. Exploring how fashion industry experts are tackling these critical issues, we will show how together we can move the industry forward by creating a collaborative ecosystem with an innovative, ethical, people-centric approach.
Tuesday 4 May	16.00 - 17.30	Creating a nutrient-rich ecosystem for societal development at scale	This session discusses how we can reduce waste, avoid duplication of efforts, and reimagine the way we pursue and enable development efforts globally when social entrepreneurs share data and artefacts.
